

Fight the flu.

Vaccination remains the simplest and most effective means of preventing the flu during the winter months. Someone who has been vaccinated protects not only themselves, but also the people around them — especially those who are the most vulnerable.

When it comes to the flu,
you call the shots.

Urgent Care Clinic or Emergency Room?

If you need immediate medical care, your first thought may be to go to the Emergency Room (ER). But if your condition isn't serious or life-threatening, you may have a less expensive choice.

Urgent Care Clinics provide quality care like an ER, but can save you time and hundreds of dollars.
